

Tanja Richter

Managing Director Technology &
Network Director

Tanja Richter (born in 1965) has been Network Director at Vodafone Germany since 1 April 2022. Prior to that, between March 2016 and her new appointment, Tanja held the function of Director Consumer Products & Services at the Vodafone Group. Between 2011 and 2016 Tanja was initially Vice President Technology and then Chief Technology Officer at Vodafone Czech Republic. She also served as a member of the company's Supervisory Board. From 2010 to 2011 she was Director Demand Management Wholesale & Technology Strategy for fixed network, mobile communications and IT operations at Vodafone Germany, Netherlands, Hungary and Czech Republic.

Born in Berlin, Tanja embarked on her career in 1994 as a technology employee at Mannesmann Mobilfunk. Since then she has held various technology management positions at Vodafone Germany.

Tanja Richter studied at the University of Bochum and the University of Maastricht and has a degree in electrical engineering. In 2013 she was named one of the 25 most influential women in the Czech Republic and is a sponsor and member of several initiatives, such as REACH, Woman in Technology and STEM.

Tanja recharges her batteries by mountain climbing with her partner.